

Contract Cleaning

SoloAdvance

Mobile Phones
Tablets
& RFID Tags

SoloAdvance for Contract Cleaners is an easy-to-use mobile phone proof of attendance and data capture solution that can be configured by users to suit the requirements of both the cleaning company and its clients.

By touching pre-positioned unique RFID tags with their mobile phone application, proof of a cleaners' attendance at a particular client location, and at a particular time, is instantly recorded.

After registering their location, the system can also present the cleaner with a list of context sensitive options on their phone – options that may be related to the type of location or customer. For example, they can select to record the job number they are about to begin, products they have used, the status of their visit, etc.

Many of our clients use the system to record incidents, property conditions and can include photographs to be used in automated reporting and compliance reporting.

Other reporting options instigated by touching an RFID tag in their vehicle could let them record start and end of shift, or travel data.

The cleaner needs to carry only one device, a mobile phone, in order to confirm where they are, for how long, and the tasks performed whilst there. Additional expensive and difficult to-use mobile devices such as a PDA are not required, and time-consuming and error-prone manual form-filling is greatly reduced.

The cleaning company thus collects in-field data quickly and more accurately, helping them provide a better service to their clients and giving them immediate visibility of visits and data logged by cleaners.

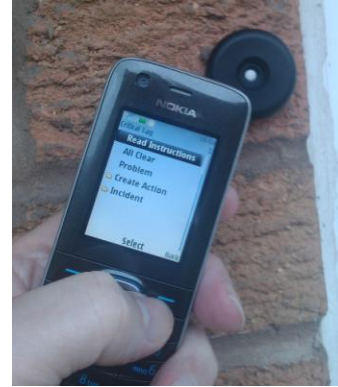

Web-browser based reports and enquiries allow both managers and clients to access real-time information that can also automatically be transferred to the main operational system.

Both Panic and Passive lone worker protection can be configured as part of the standard package ensuring that your staff are productive and safe.

Why equip your cleaners with a PDA?
Use a Mobile Phone & RFID instead!

Example

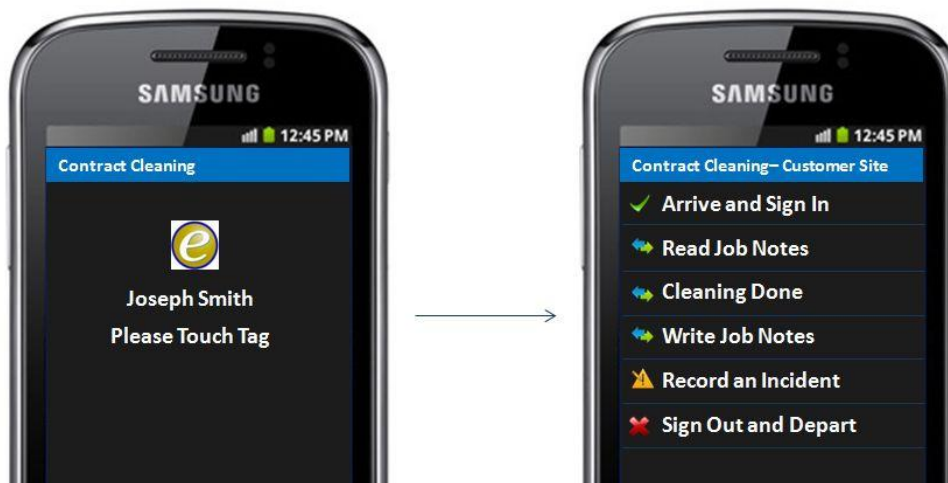

The following examples show how Mobile-e-Solution's easy-to-use SoloAdvance mobile phone contract cleaning solution could be configured to utilise RFID tags for proof of attendance and simple data capture. All data captured is instantly recorded onto our data servers to ensure that you are always in touch with what is happening in real time.

- Contract cleaners, visiting several customer sites a day
- Shift recording to record start / end shift - providing working time reports
- Visits clients site and books in arrival and departure - providing visit time reports
- Read site notes - provide information to the cleaner about the site/location
- Read location instructions - provide details of the work to be done at the location
- Enter actual work done - cleaner records details of work done from a drop down list or record ad-hoc jobs and can include before / after photographs.
- Record Incidents - to record details of anything out of the ordinary including photographic evidence.
- Automated alerts sent to managers and clients with details of incidents
- Panic and Passive Lone Worker Protection to help keep staff safe.
- For staff with company vehicles can record vehicle inspections to comply with statutory regulations.
- Automated reports can be configured to send details of cleaning visits to clients on a daily, weekly, monthly or yearly basis.

SoloAdvance can be configured for many complex business situations. If you wish, you can simply record In & Out times at each customer location. With Mobile-e-Solutions it is easy to configure the phone functionality to match the data your cleaning organization needs to capture.

Example phone menus

Please Note

SoloAdvance for the Contract Cleaner from Mobile-e-Solutions Limited utilises software supplied by Reslink Oy, a Finnish based mobile technology company. Mobile-e-Solutions Ltd is an Authorised Partner and Distributor of their products in the UK. Copyright to the information contained in this brochure resides and remains with Reslink Oy in Finland (details can be supplied on request).

For more information please contact Mike Lister on 0845 643 4898 or email him at info@mobile-e-solutions.com